Enrollment is Large.—Superintendent Allison of the city schools states that out of a total of 113 mid-year graduates, 83 have already been enrolled at the High school. This is considered an exceptionally good showing as many of the graduates stop upon completing the eighth grade studies, while others enter private schools. The percentage may be raised still higher as this is only the second day following the graduation of the mid-year pupils. There were 132 new pupils enrolled in the grades this week to commence the second half of the school year, practically all of whom are beginners. This is also an unusual addition as compared with previous years.

OGDEN RAPID TRANSIT FAVORS IMPROVEMENTS

The Ogden Rapid Transit company held an election of directors Monday, at which the following were chosen for the ensuing year: David Eccles, M. S. Browning, George H. Matson, H. H. Rolapp, H. H. Spencer, R. B. Porter and Charles H. Kircher.

Several important matters were brought before the meeting and given consideration. The board of directors was authorized to proceed at once with a bond issue, not to exceed $1,000,000, to be used in the immediate extension of the local street car system, and the installation of other contemplated improvements.

It is expected that the first issue of bonds will be not less than $500,000, additional issue to be made as required. It is stated by the officers of the company that the improvement work will commence at an early date, all figures and estimates having been prepared and at hand.

YOUNG LADY IN NEED OF A FRIEND

LOST HER POCKETBOOK AT UNION DEPOT.

Was Dismayed, When Depot Master Cunningham Came to Her Assistance.—Money Sent Her by Wire.

Miss Mamie Follett of Cheyenne arrived from the east on delayed No. 3, Monday afternoon, and after purchasing a ticket to San Francisco and while waiting for the westbound Southern Pacific train to leave, discovered that she had lost her pocketbook and was absolutely without means to continue her journey. The young lady frankly advised Depot Master Shields of her trouble, and stated that her brother was timekeeper at the Union Pacific shops at Cheyenne. Mr. Shields rushed a telegram through to the young man, stating the facts briefly, and twenty minutes later the young lady was notified that a money order was waiting for her at the Western Union telegraph office at the Union Depot. It was quick work and Miss Shields left on her train in grateful appreciation of Depot Master Shields' prompt assistance.

The lost pocketbook is supposed to have been gathered in by someone waiting for a train at the depot.

H. C. WRIGHT KILLED ON U.P.

WAS COUPLING CARS AT GREEN RIVER STATION.

Supposed to Have Been Caught Between the Vestibule of Passenger Cars.

Harry C. Wright, employed as a switchman by the Union Pacific company at Green River, was instantly killed last night while at work coupling a passenger car on the eastbound Overland Limited train which left Ogden Monday afternoon. No one witnessed the accident, but it is assumed that the unfortunate man was examining the coupler or air hose when his head was caught by the vestibule diaphragm and crushed like an egg-shell. His death is attributed to his own carelessness.

Mr. Wright has been in the employ of the company as a switchman since last October, was an old and experienced railroad man and leaves a wife and three children residing at Cheyenne. He is believed to have been a member of the Brotherhood of Trainmen and members of that organization carry an insurance of $1,500.

MANSON HAS PRAISE FOR YOUNG

FORMER UTAH WHO RAISED THE BIG BLOCKADE.

Trains Are Now Making Good Time From the Coast—Engines Are Being Repaired.

Superintendent Manson and Resident Engineer Fitzgerald returned Monday night from a trip of inspection over the Salt Lake division and report everything now in prime condition all along the Southern Pacific from Ogden to San Francisco. Replying to queries from a reporter, Superintendent Manson said:

Since Saturday last the Sacramento division has been open for traffic of every description and General Superintendent Young of the northern division of the Southern Pacific has established a new record in straightening out a tangled mass of trouble resulting from heavy storms and flooded condition. He did the work under adverse circumstances too, as right in the midst of the flood and washouts. Superintendent Sheridan of the Sacramento district was taken seriously ill from pleurisy and his left leg in the saddle alone to handle troubles of a highly serious nature. He worked in mud, snow, rain and floods like a railroad warhorse and came out of the battle of the elements with flying colors—maintaining his reputation as one of the successful chiefs of the Harriman system.

"Trains are now arriving practically on schedule time and no further delays are apprehended as a result of the recent downpour."

"Yes, freight traffic is faster light over the Southern Pacific road at this time. But that condition usually obtains at this season of the year and the management is taking advantage of quiet times to overhaul the heavy engines and get equipment in good shape for heavy business during the spring, summer and fall months."

"Improvements of all kinds and of a permanent nature are being made all along the Salt Lake division, and those in authority are liberal and broad-gauged in approving and authorizing work of this character. Railroad hotels and eating houses are being constructed at Carlin, Inlay, Montello and other points between Ogden and Sparks and new coal shuttles are being put in at various points where they are needed. Work has been resumed at the new and that new freight terminal is being pushed along as fast as possible in order to make the change from Winnemucca as early as the transfer can be accomplished."

"Throughout the recent heavy storms the Salt Lake division has stood out like a solid stone wall and track conditions generally are in a most satisfactory shape. No slow orders are necessary now anywhere between this city and Sparks and the branch lines from the main trunk route are also in good condition for traffic of all kinds."

BANCROFT TO QUIT THE ROAD

SAID TO HAVE BEEN OFFERED A HIGHER POSITION.

But He Declines to Leave Salt Lake City—Calvin Also Is to Retire.

In its railroad department last Sunday morning the Los Angeles Examiner announced the early retirement of W. H. Bancroft as general manager of the Oregon Short Line road of the Harriman system and also the resignation of E. E. Calvin as general manager of the Southern Pacific system. These officials are now on a vacation to the Hawaiian Islands and are expected to leave Honolulu for San Francisco on a steamer which sails Thursday next.

It is alleged that both of these officials have been called to New York and that the announcements of their retirement will follow their trip east.

It is generally believed that W. H. Bancroft by reason of his desire to remain in Salt Lake in preference to living in the east, as necessitated by a contemplated promotion, will close his active railroad career with his retirement from the Oregon Short Line, and that E. E. Calvin will retire from railroad work to engage in other pursuits.

The Standard has predicted changes in prominent officials of the western lines of the Harriman system for some time past, and current rumors seem to indicate that these predictions were eminently correct.

POLICEMAN WON THE DAY

CAUSED TWO MEN TO PART WITH $5 EACH.

New Officer With a Copy of the Ordinances in His Pocket Goes Gunning For Violators.

The police court grind today was of brief duration, consisting largely of petty cases against violators of the recent ordinance. Judge Murphy was apparently not to be outdone by Officer Reast, the newly appointed bicycle and driving policeman in the latter's activities of the past few days to put a stop to reckless driving, riding on sidewalks and the leaving of teams unhitched.

The case against James L. Hambley, charged with leaving his delivery team unhitched on a city street, was continued from Monday when the defendant failed to appear. Hambley was on hand this morning and pleaded not guilty. He stated that he was the delivery man for the Carver Grocery company. Officer Reast testified that Hambley had been cautioned several times about leaving his team standing unhitched in front of the grocery store where he is employed. Monday the team was again found standing unhitched and the arrest followed.

The court heard both sides of the story and decided to uphold the ordinance which punishes with a fine of at least $5 for leaving teams unhitched in the city streets, and he imposed the minimum fine, stating that Hambley did not defend himself from the charge, but only offered an excuse.

George Kap was arraigned on the charge of fast riding, to which he pleaded not guilty. Officer Reast stated that Kap was running his horse up Washington avenue at top speed and that he was obliged to take a street car to catch up with him. After bringing the racer to a halt, the officer had some difficulty in making the arrest, the offender going back to Twenty-fifth street where he was again captured and held by a citizen deputized by the officer to assist him.

Kap claimed that his horse was frightened by an automobile and that he could not control him. He also claimed that he did not know that Mr. Reast was an officer. The court fined him $5 and costs.

An Italian "neighborhood row" was on the docket, but the same was continued owing to the absence of the city attorney. In the complaint, Louis Marra, 202 Tracy avenue, charged Mrs. D. Baticchia with the use of much profane, vile and obscene language in addressing her, to all of which Miss Marra strenuously objected on the grounds that it disturbed her peace and quiet, and was, furthermore, more or less humiliating. The court room was crowded with residents of Ogden's Latin quarter in anticipation of a spirited trial, and the visitors were visibly disappointed in being denied a promised vocal fireworks which a case of this character usually brings out.

DEVELOPED INTO ASTONISHING PSYCHIC

Intense interest has been aroused throughout the city among students of psychic phenomena by the exclusive news in the Call of the strange powers in the occult of Bess Comer, the 14 year old school girl, who has developed, within three weeks' time, into a psychic of astonishing skill.

The Comer home at 4171 Seventeenth street was besieged yesterday by persons interested in the study of the astral world, and a few of the visitors were allowed to enter the house and watch the gifted girl in a demonstration.

Brother Fabrician, head of the department of psychology of St. Mary's college, Oakland, through the agency of one of his advanced pupils, who visited the Comer home last night, made an engagement to call at the house tonight and study the girl as she goes through a test. Brother Fabrician has been connected with St. Mary's for fifteen years, and is a deep student of psychology and psychic phenomena. His judgment upon the girl's power will be awaited with the deepest interest, for the professor is recognized as an authority, a careful and learned scholar.

Irving S. Cooper, national lecturer for the Theosophical society and a former president of the Berkeley society for Psychical Research, who is completing a lecture tour of the United States, expressed himself at length yesterday upon Bess Comer's strange gifts. Cooper's reputation as a student of psychic phenomena is national. "Greater care is needed in the study of psychic phenomena than is required even in scientific investigations," Cooper said yesterday. "There are so many chances to be fooled that the investigator must keep keenly on the alert watching every move, constantly insisting upon test conditions."

"I have not had time to look into the interesting case of psychic phenomena described by the Call this morning, and so have no right to say whether it be true or false. If true, it might be accomplished in one or two ways; either by what is commonly known as clairvoyance or by telepathy. It is a well known fact to the occultist, and is now recognized by science that thought can flash from mind to mind without the aid of speech. Two thinking brains are like two wireless instruments, if sympathetically tuned they can communicate with each other by thought waves. Bess Comer may have gained her knowledge to answer questions in this way."

"On the other hand, by slightly intensifying the vision of the human eye it is possible to develop a sort of 'X-ray' sight, which can see through material objects without much difficulty. A solid board, for example, would look like a slab of faint mist through which objects could be seen. Scientific men in Europe, after testing this vision, which theosophists call 'etheric sight,' in connection with the examination of the interior of living human bodies, have given it a new name of 'internal autopsy.' This name satisfies the orthodox conscience of scientists who have previously scoffed at the very existence of clairvoyances."

The students of psychic phenomena who called upon Bess Comer yesterday pronounced her an example of the "psychic" type of person gifted with occult powers. This means that she is the receptive type in her impressions rather than objective.

Pictures held in the minds of her examiners yesterday were described unerringly by the girl and other, and more astonishing feats performed. The test by Brother Fabrician tonight will conclude the girl's manifestations for a time, for her family fear that the nervous strain upon her may work her harm.

GAY UTAH MAN WITH MANY WIVES

IS CAUGHT IN ST. LOUIS BY THE POLICE.

He Had Spread a False Report of His Having Been Killed by an Automobile.

St. Louis, Feb. 2.—Thomas H. Bolin, a commercial traveler, charged with having two wives in the West, one fiancée in St. Louis, another on the Pacific coast, and with having embezzled $1,200 from the branch house of an Indiana concern in Provo, Utah, was arrested here today, following an attempt to spread a false report of his having been killed by an automobile. The clue was a letter written to Miss Ada M. Beck of Yakima, Washington, by the Yakima authorities as alias which Bolin had used and on telegraphic information from Yakima the local police arrested him.

He is charged with the embezzlement of $1,200 from the Studebaker Carriage company's branch in Provo, Utah, of having deserted his wife and two children in that city to marry Miss Arab Gustin in Clements, Kansas, and of later having persuaded Miss Schafer to leave her home.
